COMMITTEE COMMENTS

On behalf of everyone at Ince Rose Bridge, a warm and sincere welcome is extended to the players, staff, and traveling supporters of Clock Face Miners for what promises to be an electric National Conference League clash today.

Clock Face are an outstanding club that we hold in high regard, and this is a fixture we always look forward to when the calendar comes out. Having made the journey to their ground earlier in the season, our supporters know firsthand the quality and grit they bring to the pitch. Today, we know the challenge ahead, and our lads are determined to put on a performance that shows the full strength and quality of Ince Rose Bridge.

To all our incredible sponsors, selfless volunteers, and loyal fans: thank you for your unwavering support week in and week out. Your dedication is the backbone of our club and makes open-age rugby league at Bridge possible.

May today's contest be fought hard and played in the true spirit of rugby league, with toughness, discipline, and mutual respect. Good luck to both teams, and let's have a fantastic game.

TODAY'S OPPOSITION

CLOCKFACE MINERS

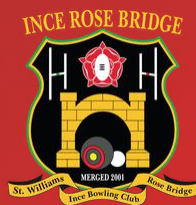

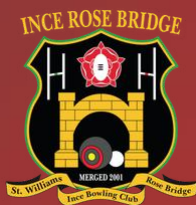

Formed in the heart of St Helens' colliery community at the Crawford Street Recreation Ground, Clock Face Miners are one of the most established and proud community clubs in rugby league. Built on the rich pit heritage, toughness, and local pride of their district, the Miners have long been a stalwart force across amateur rugby league in Lancashire and the National Conference League.

From their earliest days, Clock Face have been committed to giving local players from the St Helens area a platform to play and excel, forging an identity defined by hard work, togetherness, and competitive ambition.

Over the decades, Clock Face Miners have built a reputation that stretches well beyond St Helens. A cornerstone of the club has always been their commitment to grassroots development, boasting a thriving junior section that continually feeds determined talent into their senior ranks. Their emphasis on developing local lads ensures they remain a physical, uncompromising side year in, year out.

Competing in the NCL North West, Clock Face are known for their rugged forward play, resilient spirit, and capability to test any side in the division. When we made the trip to Crawford Street earlier in the season, our lads put in a stellar performance to take the points, but the Miners have shown their real threat this year with impressive league victories against the likes of Crosfields and Leigh East.

Well-coached, fiercely proud of their roots, and backed by a loyal St Helens support, Clock Face Miners are exactly the kind of opposition that brings out the best in Ince Rose Bridge.

REIGNITING RIVALRIES

The Standard Bearers: Ince Rose Bridge

Operating out of Pinfold Street, Bridge has built a reputation over decades as a relentless production line for professional superstars, launching the careers of legends like Bill Ashurst and modern England skipper George Williams.

The Glory Days: Beyond capturing the BARLA Lancashire Cup in 1982 and 2001, Bridge made waves nationwide by winning the BARLA U18 National Cup in 2015, proving that our commitment to elite grassroots development runs through every generation.

The Challengers: Rochdale Mayfield

Hailing from the heart of St Helens, Clock Face Miners trace their origins back to 1921 when local coal miners established the team at the Crawford Street Recreation Ground. Carrying the grit, solidarity, and uncompromising toughness of their colliery heritage, the Miners have been a cornerstone of St Helens rugby league for over a century.

The Glory Days: Clock Face reached the pinnacle of county rugby in 1978 when they battled all the way to the BARLA Lancashire Cup Final, solidifying their standing as one of the elite community clubs in the North West.

When Wigan and St Helens clash at any level, fireworks are guaranteed. Earlier this season, our lads put on an absolute masterclass at Crawford Street, running in ten tries to claim an emphatic 56-0 away victory. But Clock Face are a proud, battle-hardened mining club who never back down from a fight. Today, they arrive at Pinfold Street with a point to prove, guaranteeing another physical, high-stakes battle.

INCE ROSE BRIDGE OPEN AGE

Today we welcome Clock Face Miners to Pinfold Street, and I can tell you now, the boys are fully focused and ready to go.

For me personally, it's been a massive journey to get into the squad today. I put everything into pre-season and stayed dedicated week in, week out with the A Team. Putting in those performances and developing my game over the course of the season has been massive, and earning my spot in the first team squad is something I'm really proud of.

I was involved when we made the trip to Crawford Street earlier in the season, so I know firsthand what Clock Face bring to the table. Even though we put in a fantastic performance on their patch that day, they are a tough, physical side who never lie down. We know they will be arriving at Pinfold Street today looking to set the record straight and make things difficult for us.

The atmosphere in the camp right now is top class. Everyone is pushing each other in training, the standards are high, and the commitment across both squads is showing on the pitch. We are confident in what we can do, but we aren't taking anything for granted.

Clock Face will come here fighting, but so will we. We want to put on a show for the home crowd today and keep our standards right where they need to be.

A Team GAME UPDATE

Building Momentum down at Bridge

It has been an incredibly positive few weeks for the A Team, and the lads have shown exactly what we are capable of when we play to our potential.

The highlight of this recent run was a fantastic, hard-fought victory against a very strong Cadishead side, where the lads dug deep to prove their quality. We backed that up last Saturday with a dominant, all-round team performance against Blackbrook A Team, running out convincing 52-12 winners in a display that had everything. What stood out most was the balance across the squad. Our defence worked brilliantly as a unit, while our go-forward was impeccable. David Connor was outstanding, and with the rest of the forwards driving hard, our outside backs had the space to do real damage.

Unfortunately we have an incredibly unlucky loss against Widnes St Maries. It was a tough afternoon where brutal playing conditions and a severe lack of substitutes ultimately caught up with us, proving to be the deciding factors in the game. Despite the result, the effort from the bare numbers we had on the day was immense.

The culture within the A Team group continues to go from strength to strength. Alongside our exciting crop of young players developing week on week, we have a brilliant blend of experience with several familiar faces who have returned to the club this season. These lads have slotted straight back in, embracing the team environment, reconnecting with old teammates, and reminding everyone just how enjoyable rugby at Bridge can be.

COACHES COMMENTS

Keiron Malone

What a few weeks it has been for this group. The momentum and standard we've been building over our recent performances has been brilliant to be part of as a coaching staff, and the lads deserve enormous credit for the graft they are putting in.

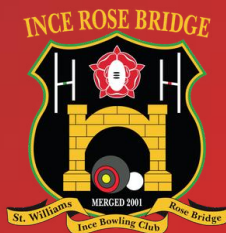

Travelling to Orrell St James and coming away with a tough, gritty victory on their own patch set the tone for where we want to be. We then carried that momentum straight into the National Cup, putting in a fantastic performance to take a massive win over a top-quality Rochdale Mayfield side. Showing that level of clinical execution and defensive desire in back-to-back big games proves what this team is capable of when everyone is dialed in.

But today is about one thing: Clock Face Miners, and keeping those standards right where they belong.

When we went to Crawford Street earlier in the season, we put in a performance to be proud of, but we know Clock Face are a proud, physical outfit who will arrive at Pinfold Street with a point to prove. They are never a side to lie down, and we know we will have to earn every single inch out on that pitch today.

We've addressed what needed refining, we've kept the intensity high in training, and the lads are hungry to keep this run going. Today is another opportunity to put together a complete eighty-minute performance on our own patch.

To everyone on the touchline today, your support makes all the difference. Get behind the boys, make Pinfold Street loud, and let's keep this momentum rolling.

Spotlight on Ince Rose Bridge Sports and Community Club Rugby Pathways

At Ince Rose Bridge Sports and Community Club, rugby is more than just a game – it's a journey that welcomes everyone, from toddlers taking their first steps onto the pitch to seasoned players who still lace up their boots for the love of the sport. Here's a look at the vital sections that make up our rugby family:

Mini Bridgers – First Steps into Rugby

The Mini Bridgers are our youngest group, introducing children to the basics of rugby through fun, inclusive, and engaging activities. Focused on building confidence, coordination, and social skills, this is where the love for the game begins. It's non-contact, play-focused, and perfect for developing early interest in team sport.

Contact Dean Kenny 07460348497

Ince Rose Bridge Junior Rugby – Growing Through the Game

Our junior teams form the core of the club's player development pathway. Ranging from Under 7s to Under 18s, they learn the values of teamwork, discipline, respect, and perseverance. These squads are coached with an emphasis on skill development, enjoyment, and preparation for the transition into adult rugby. Many of our senior players started right here.

Contact Dean Kenny 07460348497

Rose Bridge Pantheresses – Girls Making Their Mark

The Pantheresses are our dedicated girls' teams, providing a supportive and empowering environment for young women to thrive in rugby. With growing numbers and strong community backing, the Pantheresses are helping to pave the way for girls' rugby in the region, offering a pathway from grassroots to competitive levels in a sport that's becoming more inclusive every year.

Contact Dean Kenny 07460348497

Ince Rose Bridge PDRL – Rugby for All Abilities

Our Physical Disability Rugby League (PDRL) team is a testament to our belief that rugby should be for everyone. Designed for players with physical disabilities, PDRL offers the chance to play competitively while celebrating what players can do. It's an inspiring, high-energy form of the game that promotes inclusion, teamwork, and personal growth.

Contact Scott Winstanley 07973 522351

Open Age Rugby – The Heart of Competitive Rugby

Open Age is where youth development meets senior competition. It's the platform for players aged 18 and above to represent the club at a competitive level, with a strong tradition of pride, resilience, and community spirit. Whether they're lifelong members or new signings, these players embody the strength and identity of Ince Rose Bridge on and off the field. The Open Age squad is a vital link between our junior ranks and our broader ambitions in the rugby league.

Contact Peter Threlfall 07523 852844

Ince Rose Bridge Masters – The Game Never Ends

The Masters team is where the passion for rugby continues well into adulthood. Aimed at players aged 35 and over, Masters Rugby is played in a modified, safer format that allows former players—and even those new to the sport—to keep playing. It's about camaraderie, fitness, and enjoying the sport without the pressures of competition.
